Modified Income Tax Is Forcast To Aid In Balancing Budget

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

A modified state income tax, designed to equalize distribution of the tax load, as well as to bolster state revenues, is almost certain of enactment at the forthcoming session of the State Legislature.

Such, at any rate, is the judgment of many of the state's leading fiscal officers and tax authorities who are casting about for ways and means of balancing the state budget.

Several income tax proposals, with varying rates, will undoubtedly be introduced when the lawmakers convene at Sacramento in January, but it is generally anticipated that the tax finally agreed upon will yield in the neighborhood of $12,000,000 biennially.

An income tax embodying excessive rates, according to the financial experts, is impracticable, inasmuch as it would drive capital from the state and defeat its own purpose. But a modified tax on personal incomes, patterned after the levies adopted in several other states in recent years, will have the backing this year of many groups which formerly opposed all forms of income tax, due to seriousness of the financial dilemma confronting the state.

$100,000,000 NEEDED

With more than $100,000,000 in new revenues required to close the present gap between income and outgo and wipe out the state deficit, the estimated $12,000,000 in returns under an income tax becomes an important factor.

But even more important, according to some of the fiscal officials, is the imperative need of further tax equalization to eliminate injustices and discrimination.

It is admitted, for example, that the 2½ per cent state sales tax falls more heavily on the man or woman of small income than on the wealthy. Yet, the state's financial officers maintain, the sales tax revenues are absolutely essential to permit adequate support of the state school system during a period when general fund revenues are far below normal and insufficient to meet the regular expenditures of government.

The income tax, it is claimed by its sponsors, will offset some of the inequalities of the sales tax, as it will be chiefly a tax on the wealthy and on men and women in the higher salary brackets.

And various business and industrial groups which have previously fought the income tax, recognizing the vital need of tax equalization if the sales tax is to survive, are expected to withdraw their opposition to the income levy at the next session of the Legislature.

NEW VIEW OF TAX BURDEN

Out of the welter of the depression, in the opinion of many of the leaders in state affairs, has come a new willingness on the part of various taxpaying groups to seek a greater measure of fairness and equality in taxation—a new appreciation of the other man's problems.

And in that spirit, they contend, is real hope of reaching an equitable solution of the tax problem, regardless of the various tax proposals finally selected to balance the state budget.

Big Steal Man

The girl seems terrified, as who wouldn't be? The man to whom she had just been introduced, one Frank N. Stein, turns out to be a monster, and goes public enemy on her. This all-metal robot, the invention of a Londoner, can stand up, turn his head, raise his arms and answer questions in a human male voice. It's on display in New York City.

PLUMBAGO WILL BE EXPLORED

The Plumbago mine at Alleghany is being unwatered below the 400 foot level in order to explore the old workings and new development work being pushed into virgin territory on the upper levels. Pilot milling operations are under way to test values and ultimate mill costs.

A. B. Campbell, formerly with the Keystone Divide Mining Company, west of Grass Valley, has been employed as superintendent.

Plans call for unwatering to the number 10 level and explorations east and west where the last work on the mine was stopped. The shaft is 1200 feet deep. It is expected to sink 200 feet with a station at each 100 feet.

The Plumbago-El Dorado is fully equipped for mining and milling. It has a 20 stamp mill, compressor units, complete blacksmith shop, commissary and quarters to house 100 men.

The two properties have in the past produced $5,500,000 and old reports show that every foot of development work in the former operations yielded $86 to the foot at the old price of gold. The U. S. Geological survey states that single shoots of ore in the district have yielded $930,000 each and that recovery per ton or per foot of development work done is probably greater than in any other California district.

EPISCOPAL DEAN OF HAVANA WILL SPEAK

The Dean of the Episcopal church of Havana, will deliver an address in the Episcopal church in Grass Valley next Sunday.

The Bishop of the church of Havana, was to have delivered the sermon but was on the ill fated Moro Castle, which burned at sea a few weeks ago. He escaped but is still very ill, from shock and excitement, in New York City.

U. C. PROBLEM—SKUNK MINUS STINK EQUALS-?

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—How to deodorize a civet-cat—otherwise known as "skunk?"

Dr. Raymond B. Cowles, assistant professor of biology, on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, can answer that question.

Publicity was given several weeks ago to the uninvited visit of an entire skunk family—papa, mamma, and three offsprings, to the local campus. Two of the animals were caught and turned over to Dr. Cowles for safekeeping, but one escaped through an open window three stories above the ground, and the other was given his unconditional release after proving "too excitable" for a domestic pet.

Since the report was published Dr. Cowles has received urgent requests for information on the deodorizing of skunks. Dr. Cowles has agreed to forward written instructions on the subject to those who inclose a stamped, self-addressed envolope.

FRED BREESE IS CALLED BY GRIM REAPER

Fred F. Breese, who has lived in Nevada City since a young boy, passed away at his home at 8.20 this morning, casting a shadow of sorrow over the community in which he had resided so long and happily. He was aged 71 years, and was born in Three Rivers, Michigan, coming to Nevada City with his parents when only 12 years of age in about 1875. He has spent nearly his entire life in Nevada City which he loved.

Mr. Breese has engaged in plumbing practically all his life and in 1908 he bought into the firm of Turner and Co., and carried on in that firm for seven years after which he bought his present shop and home, where he had remained ever since.

Altough not a strong man, Mr. Breese had always led an active life and continued his work until in recent weeks. He had the love and respect of everyone. His home life was a happy one. There was no greater happiness for him than to take his wife or friends on fishing trips into the mountains.

He bacame seriously ill in August and an examination showed he was suffereing from ulcers of the stomach. Everything possible was done for him, to no avail.

Those left to mourn his passing are a devoted wife, a daughter, Mrs. John C. Atherton and little granddaughter, Mary Atherton, both of Richfield, Conn., and a second daughter, Mrs. William Ray of San Francisco.

The Little Church Funeral Home of W. R. Jefford & Son, will conduct the services. At the time of going to press, no definite date for the funeral had been set.

ONE MORE GAME FOR HI GRIDDERS

Nevada City high's football stalwarts have nearly completed their season's work. They have done well, for they have improved tremendously. They have played for two wins, a tie, and a defeat. The result of their six games:

Oroville defeat, Biggs tie, Grant defeat, Auburn defeat, Roseville win, Grass Valley win.

They have yet to play a final game against Grass Valley. The outlook for the Grass Valley game looks bright as their last game with Grass Valley was a victory though the boys were not at their best.

SUBDIVISION PLAN WILL BE MADE BY EMINENT ENGINEER, R. CONNER

Mr. Reeve Conner, of Monterey, Secretary-Engineer of the Monterey Planning Commission, who is an authority on planning and subdividing, will arrive in Nevada City on Friday, November 16. Mr. Conner is coming to Nevada City to plan and lay out Wood Acres, the subdivision to be opened as a residence section by Mr. C. M. Brown. Wood Acres is about a block from Nevada street, on the old Washington road.

Roundtrip railroad tickets selling for the regular one-way fare plus fifty cents, will be the travel "bargain" offered by Southern Pacific during the Christmas and New Year period, according to an announcement received here.

The low-fare roundtrip tickets will be on sale from December 13 to January 1, inclusive, and the return trip limit on all tickets will be January 15, it was stated.

The holiday rates will be good for travel between all points in California, Oregon, Arizona and Nevada, according to the announcement.

Thomas McCraney, student at the school of law at the University of California, returned today after spending the week end in Nevada City with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. McCraney.

The marchers assembled at 9:30 o'clock this morning on Bennett street, just off East Main. The parade proceeded from Bennett down Main to Mill where most of the parading took place. After marching several times up and down Main, the parade disbanded in front of the Veterans Memorial Building.

STATE BAR ASSN. THANKS PRESS

The State Bar of California today through its President, Norman A. Bailie, and Committee Chairmen Judge John Perry Wood, of Los Angeles, and O. K. Cushing, of San Francisco, joined in a letter of thanks to the organizations and individual citizens who so loyally supported Propositions 4, 5, 6, to improve court procedure and 14 and 3 to take our judges out of politics. All five measures were drawn by State Bar members and endorsed by the lawyers of the State.

It was assured today that No. 4, which enlarges the powers of Attorney-General, No. 5, which permits the judge to comment on the evidence and the failure of the accused to testify, and No. 6, which permits the defendant to plead as to his guilt before a committing magistrate, have become a part of our constitution.

The two judicial selection measures were still in doubt, with No. 3, which applies both to the Supreme and Appellate departments leading.

The bar officials stated, "We wish to thank the many editors throughout California, who have aided in giving these needed measures such generous publicity, as well as the Peace Officers Association of California, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the State Chamber of Commerce, the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, and the American Legion. Our victory to curb crime and take our judges out of politics, has been most gratifying."

A. M. HOLMES DIRECTS FUNERAL OF OLD FRIEND

A. M. Holmes, Nevada county coroner, was called on to handle the funeral arrangements Thursday in Marysville for the late Coroner Frank M. Lipp, senior member of the firm of Lipp and Sullivan, who passed away last week.

Mr. Holmes and Mr. Lipp, coroners of adjoining counties had always been closely associated and were warm friends. There were 25 mortician firms of the state represented at the funeral. The Elks lodge of Marysville conducted the funeral rites.

Flaming Mattress Fires Grocery Store

After having enjoyed a good smoke in bed early Sunday morning, W. L. Wiles, in his room in the second floor of a rooming house, next door to Cicogni and Angelini's grocery store, was awakened a few minutes later by a blazing mattress and blanket.

Wiles got out of bed and heaved the burning bedding out the window, spread his remaining blankets on the springs and resumed his slumbers.

The mattress fell between the two buildings in an areaway about four feet wide and ignited the wall of the grocery store and flamed up the side setting the roof on fire.

It had burned some little while before the fire alarm was turned in about 6:30 o'clock. The fire department responded promptly and after a desperate battle extinquished the flames. Damage was estimated at $300.

Chief of Police W. G. Robson arrested Wiles and lodged him in a cell beneath the city hall. Wiles, Robson charges, had been drinking excessively. He is 54 years of age and was born in Maryland. He has been a member of the SERA and was engaged in stringing telephone wire near Bloomfield and at present is employed with the CCC boys at the camp at White Cloud. He states that if he had left the bedding in the room he occupied, the lodging house would have burned down.

For a short time it was feared the flames would get out of control and burn down the three buildings there in close proximity.

Presidents' Kin Get Together

Among other illustrious American women attending the annual membership banquet of the Y. W. C. A. in New York City were Mrs. James Roosevelt, left, mother of the president; and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, widow of the late chief executive. They are shown above after they met.

PUBLIC INVITED TO HEAR COLLEGE HEAD TONIGHT

The Woman's Civic Club is anticipating a large attendance this evening to hear the president of the Sacramento Junior College, Mr. J. B. Lillard, speak on the subject of Early Californa Indian Tribes. Mr. Lillard and Mrs. Lillard will be guests of the club. The meeting is at 8 o'clock in the Brand Studio.

Mr. Lillard began his studies of California Indian tribes years ago in Santa Barbara county where many of the most interesting artifacts of Indian life are found. The islands of Santa Cruz and Santa Rosa, across Santa Barbara chanel from the mainland have in late years been explored by archeologists, with the result that many new implements and utensils have been discovered which seem to link the aborigenes of these islands with the natives of Polynesia.

The Civic Club extends a cordial invitation to the public to hear Mr. Lillard this evening.

MOTOR TRANSPORT ASKS NEVADA CITY FRANCHISE

The Railway Commission has received an application from United Motor Transport Lines, Inc., asking that it be granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate an auto trucking service between Auburn and Nevada City via Grass Valley. The company now operates between Sacramento and Auburn, and the Nevada City-Grass Valley service is asked as an extension of this service.

THANKSGIVING DAY MEETING FOR ALUMNI

Alumni of Grass Valley and Nevada City high schools will meet on Thanksgiving Day on the grid field in Grass Valley for a football game. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

Judge Oscar Winburn, justice of the peace in Grass Valley, has been committed to the State hospital at Stockton. His many friends in Nevada City and Grass Valley hope for his early recovery.

LEGION COMMANDER ADDRESSES HI STUDENTS

Luther Marsh, commander of the Grass Valley American Legion Post, spoke at an assembly at the high school last Friday afternoon. He recalled his student days at Nevada City high school, and told of the Armistice Day program held today. He introduced Mr. E. K. Smart, also of the Grass Valley Legion. Mr. Smart gave an interesting speech on Americanism. Several chorus numbers by the mixed group trained by Miss Olive Kreutz were included in the program. The chorus sang a peppy song intitled, "Three Limericks," and a classical selection. The group was composed of twelve girls and five boys, and made a most favorable impression on all assembled, in spite of the absence of several of the best singers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Cassidy and daughter, Miss Beatrice Cassidy, are spending this week end in the bay region. They attended the Washington-Stanford football game.

HI JUNIORS' CIRCUS IS UPROARIOUS SHOW

The junior class of the high school Friday evening gave a circus complete in all but the animals. It was entitled, "The Combined Barndoor Bailhay Ringless Circus." It featured a German band, a queen, a grand entrance, clown stunt, the Princess Cleopatra, a Gypsy fortune teller, a Princess Kanjamr, a Professor Gigolo Swindler, "the most beautiful woman in Paris," pyramid work and a extra fine tumbling number.

Many of the students came in costume; almost all of the juniors were costumed; some of them as little Dutch girls, some of them as gamblers, negroes, gypsis, jailbirds, sailors, soldiers, Spanish senoritas, and what not. There was dancing until eleven, and everybody enjoyd a most colorful evening.

Great credit should be given to Miss Esther Tremaine for her fine work and unique imagination in producing such a first-class entertainment. Jim Stevens was the ringmaster, Ike Elliott the leader of Professor Bumleyer's German band, and Gertrude Schreiber, the circus queen.

What other generation was ever confronted with such problems as we face! Numerous and difficult though they be, we are unwilling to wait for the slow process of time to deal with them. They must be solved without delay.

Nothing, then, but some form of learning in mature life can lead us out of our difficulties. Within a limited period of time men and women must equip themselves to understand the forces of society and so put themselves into a position to bring about improved conditions. But some one will ask: Can we not hand our problems over to talented and highly trained individuals? We need of course their service, but it is only out of widely diffused effort that persons of signal ability emerge.

The required methods of work are no secret; for they have been successfully employed by thinking individuals ever since the time of Socrates. In the domain of studies and investigation, reasoning and understanding one cannot build without first laying foundations. One cannot, for example, be a radio expert without first laying hold on the principles of electricity. One cannot be a business expert without first becoming familiar with the principles of economics. One cannot be an engineer without first getting a knowledge of mathematics. So it runs throughout the cycle of subjects. Successful work along any line is a kind of development; before going far, one must master its preliminary and prerequisite stages. There is no other valid way. One cannot build a tower without first laying a solid foundation.

SNAILS SPREAD LUNG WORM AMONG SHEEP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The lowly mollusc must be held partially to blame for the spreading of the lungworm, which each year is responsible for much damage to sheep and other livestock, according to observations just completed by A. and M. Hobmaier, of the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research at the University of California.

A study for the control of lungworms revealed that the infestation of molluscs plays an important part in the spreading of these microscopic organisms. The lungworms attack the sole of the foot of snails, slugs and other molluscs, quickly working up into the layers of muscular connective tissues where the larvae coil up and begin the formation of a parasitic tubercle.

Thes larvae represent the infestation stage, and their further growth and propagation depends upon them moving on from the mollusc to their definite host. This is all too often accomplished by the molluscs being eaten, as they lie hidden in the grass, by cattle and sheep.

The observations at the University reveal for the first time the part played by molluscs in the perpetuating of parasites which attack vertebrates.

FRENCH CORRAL

BY MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, Nov. 10.—Back to the old post. Weary weeks of drought and heat have contributed to this long silence. Be sure ure, for we love to talk of French that we have been missing the pleas-Corral and dear old San Juan Ridge.

The late rains have brought a return of the grass, blessed grass. Did you ever stop to think how blessed is the grass? In it what a miracle goes on before our very eyes. Just a little moisture on the hard baked earth and up comes those tender little green leaves, beautifying field and landscape and satisfying the appetite of the hungry animals.

Many droves of cattle have winded their way down to the foothill during the past week. As many of our citizens will be out of employment as soon as the water rises in the water, a petition was drawn up to present to the Board of Supervisors in the interest of these people. Many from San Juan and French Corral were in Nevada City Monday to be present at the session of the Supervisors. A meeting was held in San Juan Thursday to make plans.

Many different friends, ex-residents, visited here during the past month or six weeks. Among them Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bean and Mr. and Mrs. Cassen, of San Francisco.

Miss Elizabeth Fowler, whose parents were pioneer residents of the Ridge, made a short visit here. She and her brothers are natives of Birchville, where their parents lived for many years. Later she often visited an aged aunt and uncle at this place where she has many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hoffman, of Sacramento, and other members of their family visited the old home place.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Rundy, of Sacramento, former residents, paid their usual summer visit.

Clare Grady, of Los Angeles, who in boyhood days resided here with his parents, was also a visitor during October. He was accompanied by his wife and two sons.

Election day brought visitors, whom their friends and relatives were pleased to see.

Miss Catherine Skean and her sister, Mrs. Celia Sandow and husband, of Aburn, paid a visit to the San Juan Ridge and their old home place in Birchville.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Paynter and son Harold, of Sacramento, were recent visitors. They were residents of this place for a couple of years.

Several newcomers are among the residents of French Corral. Houses are in great demand. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. May, of Sacramento who own the Pinney estate at Buckeye Hill, Birchville and French Corral, have returned. They will spend the winter here.

A series of whist parties will be given by Columbia Parlor of the Native Daughters during the winter in order to pay for repair work which must be done on their hall. They plan to give another whist party on December 8, and will be glad to welcome friends and insure them of a good time.

"NANA" IS FEATURE AT NEV. THEATER TONIGHT

Anna Sten in "Nana" comes to the Nevada Theater tonight and Tuesday marking the film debut of the blonde young actress from Soviet Russia.

Samuel Goldwyn brought her to Hollywood a year ago last May and spent eighteen months and a fortune preparing her for her first picture.

Lionel Atwill, Richard Bennett, Mae Clark, Phillips Holmes and Muriel Kirkland appear in support of Miss Sten in the story of the rise and fall of a lady of the boulevards and the music halls of the gas-lit Paris of 1870, suggested by Zola's famous novel and freely adapted to the screen by Willard Mack and Harry Wagstaff Cribble.

Dorothy Arzner directed the picture, and Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart wrote the song, "That's Love," which Miss Sten sings in the title role of this United Artis release.

Wednesday and Thursday Richard Arlen and Ida Lupino will appear at the Nevada Theater screen in the rollicking story, "Here Come the Marines," a story of what the boys in the Marine Corps do when they get away from home, told in an exceedingly funny manner.

Misses Margaret and Ruth Rector students of the University of California, Berkeley, are spending the week end and Armistice Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rector.

ELECTRIC BROODER TO SAVE BACON SUPPLY

DAVIS, Nov. 12.—In an effort to reduce the loss of 150,0000 pigs which occurs annually as a result of sows lying or stepping on their offspring, an electric pig brooder is to be tried by the Animal Husbandry Division of the University of California, at the Branch of the College of Agriculture here.

E. H. Hughes, associate professor of animal husbandry, estimates that at least two pigs are lost from each brood, primarily because in cold weather the pigs snuggle up to their mother to keep warm. This approximates, he belives, a fourth of the pigs farrowed.

In cooperation with the California Committee on Relation of Electricity to Agriculture, Professor Hughes will try out several electric brooders on the University Farm in the hog house here, and on farms in the state. One such brooder is to be built by the agricultural engineering division for use this winter and next spring.

NO INJUNCTION FOR EMPIRE STAR IN APEX SUIT

Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan has denied the Empire Star Mining Company's petition for a temporary injunction to halt Grass Valley Bullion Mines from tunneling under the former concern's property at Grass Valley.

The decision was handed down in San Francisco without comment.

The next move will be the trial of Empire Star's damage suit, in which the company seeks appropriate remuneration for gold allegedly extracted by the other company from underneath the Empire Star property.

Attorney Edgar T. Zook, representing Grass Valley Bullion, says his clients, have been working on the apex of a vein which began on their own property and extended underneath the Empire Star. As far as he knows, he says, that work will continue until such time as the federal court may determine its legality.

Talk about bargains—more for your money. Read this message. You'll see that it is going to pay you for a WHOLE YEAR to take advantage of this Bargain Offer.

Think of the times you have used broom and dust pan. You thought to economize. You let the vacuum cleaner stand idle. But that will hardly pay now. A vacuum cleaner on our regular rate works NINE hours for only FIVE cents. Now, beginning in December, you can have NINE EXTRA hours of vacuum cleaning each month over the corresponding months of last year for 2½ cents. Your vacuum cleaner sweeps so much better—so much easier. Make it do EXTRA work at half cost.

Then, too, there is hardly a home but what needs better lighting. EXTRA light, by putting new bulbs into empty sockets, by using more lamps, will mean easier reading, more comfort, more cheerful rooms and protection to the eyes.

Plan electric meals that will put idle appliances to work, such as waffle iron, coffee urn, toaster, grill, etc. Make these appliances give you EXTRA service with Extra Electricity at half price. You see it is not a matter of more appliances; just use your appliances more.

To families who are modernizing their homes this ½ Off EXTRA Electricity is an exceptionally attractive bargain offer. You may install an electric range and water heater to qualify for the rate with a low block of one cent per kilowatt hour. With ½ Off Electricity you can operate the range and water heater for as low as ½ cent per kilowatt hour.

Or you may install an electric refrigerator that would normally cost $1.50 a month to operate. With EXTRA Electricity you cut that normal operating cost in half or to seventy-five cents a month. ½ Off on EXTRA Electricity is certainly cheap Electricity.
